

Pharmaceutical Experts

CASE #10039

Drug formulation expert in material science well-versed in powder x-ray diffraction

The Right Experts Every Time

Pharmaceutical and biotech innovation generates complex, high-stakes litigation. Whether challenging IPR claims, presenting bioequivalence findings for ANDA proceedings, or selling a jury on the difference between proper delayed entry and attempting to monopolize the market, you need an expert who can accurately and persuasively illustrate your position.

That's where we shine. Our specialized research and recruiting team searches for each expert by infiltrating industry and academia, talking to professionals, scholars, technicians, and leaders to ensure we find the right experts.

Decades of Experience

Don't limit yourself to an off-the-shelf solution. You need a search process as unique and nuanced as the issue at hand. IMS ExpertServices has decades of experience tailoring our approach to match your needs. Our professionals properly vet for conflicts while deftly handling sensitive information and safeguarding confidentiality.

Service When it Matters

IMS ExpertServices micromanages the minutia so you don't have to. We stick with you through every phase of the case, handling the relationship, anticipating snags, and scrutinizing the details. Our team manages billing matters, so there is budget certainty and no surprises. Your job is to try the case. Our job is to deliver the experts who position you for the win.
